

Goal • Practise finding specific information on the Internet.

What to Do

Use this worksheet as a guide while you look for information on the Internet.

- Use a different sheet for each search engine you try for each topic.
- If necessary, use the back of this page or your notebook to record results from different combination of key words.
- In the chart provided, record the most useful websites you found.
- Also record the correct address of useful websites you may want for future research or for your bibliography.
- Keep track of the amount of time you are taking for this research.
