

When assessing students' ability to interpret data, consider if the student:

<input type="checkbox"/> is able to gather all pertinent data <input type="checkbox"/> organizes and records data in a logical, careful manner <input type="checkbox"/> summarizes and communicates data in a manner that shows trends and relationships, and that points out inconsistencies	4
<input type="checkbox"/> is able to gather data <input type="checkbox"/> organizes and records data in a careful manner <input type="checkbox"/> summarizes data and communicates a reasoned explanation	3
<input type="checkbox"/> is able to gather some data <input type="checkbox"/> organizes and records the data <input type="checkbox"/> is able to give a summary of data collected	2
<input type="checkbox"/> collects little or no data or data are incorrect <input type="checkbox"/> data are not organized or recorded <input type="checkbox"/> is unable to summarize data	1

