

CHAPTER 3HANDOUT*Classifying My Music*BLM 3.2.1

Use the skills of classification to organize your music collection. Follow the procedure outlined below, and answer the questions that follow.

1. Make a list of your music collection (CDs, mp3s, etc.).
2. Group your music in order to create a natural classification of your collection.
3. Create a hierarchy by which to classify your music collection. This hierarchy should follow the one used for classifying living things.
4. Use a concept map to demonstrate the rationale you have used in your classification system.
5. Prepare a chart that classifies your music collection.

Questions

1. Explain how a classification system helps the organization of your music collection.

2. What criteria did you use to classify your collection? Explain why you chose these criteria.
