

Structures of the Female Reproductive System Answer Key

The female reproductive system. All the reproductive organs and ducts are inside the body. Gametes are produced in the ovaries, fertilization occurs in the oviduct, and fetal development takes place in the uterus. The vagina is both the organ of sexual intercourse and the birth canal.